FOREWORD

When the graduates leave Algoma High School in June, it will be for the last time as students. Some will be college bound, others will become part of the working force, but whichever it may be, the memories of high school days will remain.

For this reason "Alma Mater" has been chosen as the theme of the 1964 "Scroll of the Wolves." It is sincerely hoped that in future years this yearbook will bring back pleasant memories.

Superintendent's Message

1876 - 1905 - 1935 - 1955 - ?

Years may come and years may go. As they pass, they are marked by a series of milestones as is noted in the album of our Alma Mater.

Starting as a small two story brick building of eight rooms in 1876 it was remodeled into a building about three times as large in 1905. This first high school was torn down to make way for the original part of the present building in 1935. This new building also had growing pains and with the addition of 1955 we were provided with a school building consisting of thirty five teaching stations, a cafeteria, a library, a gymnasium, an auditorium, and efficient shops and laboratories.

As the school grew the facilities were improved and the program enriched. An effort has been made to provide an adequate program for the college bound student, for the student planning a technical or engineering career, or a terminal education for the student not seeking further study.

Our Alma Mater, organized as a three year high school in 1886, became a four year high school in 1894. The original charter establishing the Algoma High School was granted on March 1, 1888.

Since the school began in 1886, graduating classes have ranged in size from none in several early years to 114 in 1961 with a total of 3,433 seniors passing through the school in the seventy years of its existence.

While these numbers are not great, the total is nearly as large as our city's population and the educational impact is immeasurable. Among these graduates we find people in many professions, occupations, and industries. Yes, doctors and dentists, judges and lawyers, engineers, teachers, clergymen, nurses, and other artisans are proud to claim Algoma High School as their Alma Mater. And we are proud to have had them as students.

BOARD OF EDUCATION--Standing: Leon O'Konski, Marvin Krause. Seated: William Mielke, Herbert Stephenson, Mrs. C. A. Ackerman.

We, the Class of 1964, would like to thank the members of the Board of Education for your time and effort spent to improve the Algoma High School facilities and standards.

Each student in some way has felt your influence and has benefited from the opportunities provided. The appreciation and use of our education will be reflected in meeting the problems of the present and the future.

Dedication

The graduating class of 1964 dedicates this "Scroll of the Wolves" to our parents, whose devotion to the task of our education holds us forever in debt.

We believe the priceless worth of our school life to be an essential part of the values taught to us by our parents, our first teachers.

We give credit to our parents, whose perseverence and wisdom enable us to enjoy this vital part of our growth and the appreciation of our youth.

Hot Off the Press

Seventy members of the School Daze Staff have been responsible for putting out eight issues of the paper. Jim Pavlick headed the sports section and Nancy Wiesner was in charge of art. Advisers were Mrs. Waterstreet, Mr. Wilbert, Mr. Heidt and Mrs. Rankin.

The Debate club, though small in number, was not lacking in desire to persuade by presenting strong informative material. This training has strong potential for active participation in public affairs.

Focus on F.H.A.

Under the guidance of Miss Cooper, forty-eight members of the Algoma Chapter of the F. H. A. worked to revise and increase this year's program.

The year's activities included a jaunt to a Green Bay style show, a visit to Milwaukee's Holiday Folk Fair, a U. N. I. C. E. F. collection, preparation of tray favors for the hospital and Havenet, candlelight initiation for new members, an F. H. A. - F. F. A. Christmas party, a United Nations Day display and tea for the faculty, a style show at the close of the year, and treat selling at various sport events.

Widening Our Horizons

As future leaders of tomorrow, students must be well informed about the happenings around the world today. This was the aim of the 1963-'64 session of Student Forum. Under the guidance of Miss Higgins, forty members of this discussion club elected Linda Guth as President, Jamie Hall as Vice-President, and Jeanne Jerabek as Secretary-Treasurer.

Through panel discussions, the members became better acquainted with American problems; state, national and world affairs; and the teen-age problems of today.
